Dressing for the Feast

October 11, 2020- Scott Hahn Reflects on the 28th Sunday in Ordinary Time Year A

First Reading – Isaiah 25:6-10

Psalm 23:1-6

Second Reading – Philippians 4:12-14, 19-20

Gospel – Matthew 22:1-14

Our Lord's parable in today's Gospel is again a fairly straightforward outline of salvation history.

God is the king (see Matthew 5:35), Jesus the bridegroom (see Matthew 9:15), the feast is the salvation and eternal life that Isaiah prophesies in today's First Reading. The Israelites are those first invited to the feast by God's servants, the prophets (see Isaiah 7:25). For refusing repeated invitations and even killing His prophets, Israel has been punished, its city conquered by foreign armies.

Now, Jesus makes clear, God is sending new servants, His apostles, to call not only Israelites, but all people-good and bad alike-to the feast of His kingdom. This an image of the Church, which Jesus elsewhere compares to a field sown with both wheat and weeds, and a fishing net that catches good fish and bad (see Matthew 13:24-43, 47-50).

We have all been called to this great feast of love in the Church, where, as Isaiah foretold, the veil that once separated the nations from the covenants of Israel has been destroyed, where the dividing wall of enmity has been torn down by the blood of Christ (see Ephesians 2:11-14).

As we sing in today's Psalm, the Lord has led us to this feast, refreshing our souls in the waters of Baptism, spreading the table before us in the Eucharist. As Paul tells us in today's Epistle, in the glorious riches of Christ, we will find supplied whatever we need.

And in the rich food of His body, and the choice wine of His blood, we have a foretaste of the eternal banquet in the heavenly Jerusalem, when God will destroy death forever (see Hebrews 12:22-24).

But are we dressed for the feast, clothed in the garment of righteousness (see Revelation 19:8)? Not all who have been called will be chosen for eternal life, Jesus warns. Let us be sure that we're living in a manner worthy of the invitation we've received (see Ephesians 4:1).

And the Joy of Family Life Daily
Reflections

Do You Pray Together?

I would like to ask you, dear families: Do you pray together from time to time as a family? Some of you do, I know. But so many people say to me: But how can we? In the family how is this done? After all, prayer seems to be something personal, and, besides, there is never a good time, a moment of peace.... Yes, all that is true enough, but it is also a matter of humility, of realizing that we need God...And all families, we need God: all of us! We need his help, his strength, his blessing, his mercy, his forgiveness.

- Homily, October 27, 2013

Reflection: How does your family pray? If you are married, do you pray as a couple? Do you model a prayer life for your children? Have you taught your children how to talk to God as a friend? Evaluate what you currently do and see if there are ways in which God wants you to grow.
